10K Movement Dance Clinic

10K Movement is a Cleveland nonprofit founded in 2020 by Samuel A. McIntosh to preserve and cultivate authentic hip-hop and street dance culture. It offers community classes, school programs, and professional development. The organization hosts Lords of the Land, an international street dance festival. 10K Movement partners with major institutions like the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame and was nationally recognized on The Kelly Clarkson Show for building an equitable street dance ecosystem. | 10k.movement.org

Medina High School Encore

The Encore Entertainment Company is Medina High School's auditioned show choir, featuring 32 singers, 13 instrumentalists, and 10 crew members. Rehearsing twice weekly outside of school, Encore competes across the Midwest and performs frequently in the community. They present a competition show, spring show, holiday show, and solo recital annually. In 2026, Encore will perform in five competitions across Ohio and West Virginia and host their 15th Medina Midwest Showcase invitational. | medinachoir.com

St. Edward's Trash Talkers

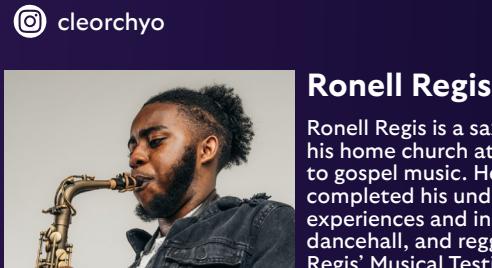

The Trash Talkers, born from the spirit of groups like Stomp and Blue Man Group, bring rhythmic intensity to steel cans and barrels. Originating in 2002 at St. Edward High School with just eight students, this popular troupe is now entirely student-led, handling all choreography and arrangements. They tour local schools, festivals, and sporting events, inspiring audiences with their distinct sound. They have performed at impressive venues, including Cleveland City Hall and the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame, driven by a passion for connecting with every audience. sehs.net/student-life/performing-arts/trash-talkers

Cleveland Classical Guitar Society

The Cleveland Classical Guitar Society (CCGS) is a nonprofit dedicated to its mission to teach, inspire, and connect. Its International Series presents the world's greatest classical guitarists. The entirely free Education Program provides life-changing experiences for youth in Cleveland schools, earning a 2021 regional Emmy. CCGS also serves local guitarists through masterclasses, recitals, and commissioning new works by BIPOC composers to promote equity and innovation.

Ronell Regis Trio

Ronell Regis is a saxophonist and composer who began playing for his home church at 12 years old, starting from hymns to spirituals to gospel music. He then attended Kent State University where he completed his undergraduate degree in jazz studies. He blends his experiences and inheritances in gospel, R&B, jazz, hip-hop, calypso, dancehall, and reggae at any given moment. His musical suite, Ronell Regis' Musical Testimonial, is a dedication to the power of testimony and the weight our life's stories hold anchored by the success and hardships.

Cleveland Association of Black Storytellers

Since 1997, Donna Willingham has specialized in African and African American storytelling for all ages. A member of the Cleveland and National Associations of Black Storytellers, she uses her craft to spark imagination and connect with the community.

Bassoon Farm

In fall 2022, The Cleveland Orchestra launched Bassoon Farm at Campus International School. This initiative provides instruments and twice-weekly instruction from teaching artists, creating a vital pipeline for students toward The Cleveland Orchestra Youth Orchestra and future professional music careers.

Martin Luther King, Jr. Chamber Chorus

The Martin Luther King, Jr. Celebration Chorus is a volunteer community chorus assembled each year since 1989 to sing as part of The Cleveland Orchestra's annual MLK Celebration Concert. Bringing together singers from across Northeast Ohio, the Chorus lifts its collective voices in affirmation of Dr. King's vision of justice, peace, and human harmony. First assembled by Alvin Parris, the Chorus has been prepared and assembled by Dr. William Henry Caldwell for the past decade.
